

INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY SPORT AND RECREATION PROGRAM

Funded through the Department of Public Works and Housing (Sports) to deliver sport and recreational activities that increase participation in healthy lifestyle choices. Wangarra has managed this program since 2006 and is the only service in Brisbane delivered by an Indigenous community controlled organisation.

COMMUNITY CULTURAL EVENTS

Wangarra acts as an auspice agent for many annual cultural or community events. These include Southside Mabo Promotion Day, Inala NAIDOC celebrations, Too Solid Indigenous Student Awards, Djara Aboriginal Dance Group and Brisbane Blacks football team.

INDIGENOUS WOMEN'S PROGRAM

Funded through the National Indigenous Australians Agency, this program aims to build leadership and provide support to Indigenous women in our community. Activities delivered under this program include Welcome Babies to Country, Rites of Passage, West Inala women's and girl's rugby league teams and Bandarr Gan Gu (To Strengthen Women) group.

INDIGENOUS YOUTH MENTOR

A Skilling Queenslanders for Work - Youth Skills program, in partnership with IYS, that engages young Indigenous people attached to the justice system. This program utilises a local Indigenous community member as the Trainer and a suite of cultural activities to support young people obtaining a Certificate I in Vocational Pathways or employment.

NAREE WANDIMA - I Rise Up

A social and emotional well-being program funded in partnership with the Institute of Urban Indigenous Health, the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community Health Service and the Brisbane South PHN, this program aims to address drug and alcohol abuse. The program includes a psychologist, mental health clinician and two community care coordinators.

CULTURAL LINKS DISABILITY SERVICES

Delivered by the Queensland government and the Inala Elders for over 20 years, this program engages Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people with a disability in weekly art therapy workshops. Wangarra does not receive any funding for this program

RICHLANDS COMMUNITY JUSTICE GROUP AND MURRI COURT

Funded through the Department of Justice and Attorney General, this program supports Indigenous people to navigate the justice system in a culturally safe way. Managed in collaboration with Elders and Indigenous community respected persons, this program aims to reduce the number of Indigenous people incarcerated.

WEST INALA RUGBY LEAGUE FOOTBALL CLUB

Wangarra manages and leases the facilities of this football club, with minor sponsorship from the Institute of Urban Indigenous Health. Operating with a Steering Committee of local community members, the club offers weekly training and seasonal competition from the ages of 5 to over 35, girls and women. Wangarra does not receive any funding for this service.

CREATIVE ARTS AND CULTURAL PROGRAM

Funded through the Brisbane City Council, this program was developed from the "Stylin Up" program and includes community based arts and cultural development activities. With a diverse range of art mediums, the program has a multitude of showcase outcomes including Out of the Box Festival, the Melbourne Comedy Festival, the Brisbane Writers Festival and The Powerhouse.

COMMUNITY RESOURCE OFFICER

A youth suicide intervention and prevention program funded through the Brisbane South Primary Health Network, this acts as a resource and support for the community. Focused specifically on Indigenous young people and their families, this program also leads the delivery of the Gift of Galling, which works in schools to build resilience, raise awareness and encourage mindfulness, community connection and cultural identity.

CULTURAL STEWARDSHIP

Working with the Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women, this program aims to match and support Indigenous mentors (Aunties and Uncles) to build and maintain a relationship with an Indigenous child in care.

YOUTH BAIL SUPPORT PROGRAM

Delivered in partnership with IYS, this program aims to support young people to remain on bail and not re-enter the corrective services system. Through a multi-pronged approach of scaffolding services, the program works with the young people to remove their barriers to active and positive citizenship.

INALA ELDERS AGED CARE

In collaboration with the Inala Elders and the Institute of Urban Indigenous Health, Wangarra delivers the community engagement component of this in-home care program. Wangarra does not receive any funding for this activity.
